

July 2018 'Point in Time' Analysis

1. Introduction

The Strategic Plan 2017-2020 and the Communications and Engagement Strategy 2017-2020 of Oberstown Children Detention Campus contain a commitment to collate and analyse good quality data to support the quality of care provided to young people. Following on from the publication of a detailed Q1 snapshot of the circumstances of young people, and continuing our commitment to publish timely and relevant statistics on young people in detention, it is proposed to compile a 'point-in-time' statistical report for publication on a monthly basis.

The data captured here reflects a snapshot of young people in Oberstown on a given day each month. The bulletin provides an overview of the population in terms of offending, background, health and well-being, education and care.

2. Overview of population

There were 41 young people in Oberstown on the date in question in July.

Of those: 30 were on detention orders and 11 were on remand orders.

The offences for which young people were detained included:

- Theft and Fraud – 18 young people had charges of this offence.
- Assault – 14 young people.
- Criminal damage – 5 young people.
- Road Traffic Offences – 4 young people.

Of those remanded:

- 2 young people on remand in Oberstown for a period of between 1 and 10 days.
- 6 young people were on remand in Oberstown for between 11 and 90 days.
- 3 young people were on remand in Oberstown for more than 90 days.

Of those sentenced:

- 21 young people had a sentence of between 1 and 10 months.
- 4 young people had a sentence of between 11 and 18 months.
- 5 young people had a sentence of between 2 and 6 years.

Of the 41, 33 young people had been in detention previously – 15 of those on remand only. Eight young people had never been to Oberstown previously.

3. Origins/background

Of the young people:

- 18 were from Dublin, 4 were from Meath, 3 were from Galway, 3 were from Kildare, 3 were from Longford, and the rest came from counties: Carlow; Cavan; Cork; Limerick; Westmeath; Waterford; Wexford.

- 29 were Irish nationals, 6 were Travellers, 2 were African, 1 was an EU National and there were 3 young people with other ethnicities.

4. Health and Well-being

Regarding health, young people's files recorded the following data:

- There were concerns for 16 young people in respect of their mental health, of which 8 were related to ADHD.
- 2 young people were on medication for mental health concerns.
- 6 were previously on medication for mental health concerns.
- 8 young people had a history of self-harm.
- 27 young people were recorded as having misused alcohol and/or drugs prior to detention.

5. Education

Regarding education, young people's files recorded the following data:

- 20 young people had not been engaging in education prior to admission.
- 8 young people had learning difficulties/disabilities.

6. Children in Care¹

Of the 41 young people in Oberstown:

- 8 young people were in care prior to detention while a further 5 had significant involvement with Tusla.²
- 1 young people was under a Special Care order prior to detention.³
- Files indicated that there were child protection concerns⁴ in respect of 8 young people in the past.
- 14 young people had a social worker.
- 3 young people had a Guardian Ad Litem.⁵

¹ This covers all forms of care as outlined in the Child Care Act, 1991, namely voluntary, foster, residential, special care or emergency care

² Care placements may not always have been active immediately prior to detention.

In some cases, the young people in question had multiple placements over a number of years, while in others young people were under long-term full care orders. Others still had just recently come to the attention of the care services.

³ Special Care is short term, stabilising and safe care in a secured therapeutic environment. A placement in Special Care can only be made pursuant to an Order of the High Court.

⁴ Child protection concerns refers to young people who are at risk of abuse/neglect. See Tusla, <http://www.tusla.ie/services/child-protection-welfare/>.

⁵ A GAL is a court appointed representative who advocates for a young person during court proceedings.
